

Project Title: ECO-WARRIOR

Hosted By: Lara Warson

Project Introduction:

Graduating in times of a lockdown forced me to search for new approaches. By attaching these to a mannequin, silhouettes were created that I couldn't have drawn by hand that easily.

About Organisation:

My perspective on fashion has changed a lot in the past couple of years. The more I found out about the environmental impact it has, the more I started doubting if I even wanted to contribute to this industry. This made me look into the opportunities within sustainable thinking, since I realised it doesn't need to be a creative restriction for designers.

In my work I explore the multiple approaches this mindset contains, from biodegradable textiles to upcycling already existing materials.
