

Project Title: #helloeveryone!

Hosted By: Royal Academy of Art, The Hague (KABK)

Project Introduction:

This project invites everyone to step into the very near future - the time when technology and machines will reach sufficient levels of efficiency and leave us with enough time to rediscover our human nature. What will the new city landscape look like? What kind of role will human play within it?

About Organisation:

Aušra ?esnauskyt? is a Lithuanian spatial designer based in the Hague, that graduated masters of the interior architecture from KABK (Class of 2020). With a particular focus on public space, she has been constantly zooming in and out from globalised urban landscapes to specific micro-scale accidents. Within her current practice, the technical background in architecture is intertwined with playful speculative designs, which intend to question our urban lifestyles and landscapes unification.
